Attorneys for Plaintiff Nike, Inc.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF OREGON
PORTLAND DIVISION

NIKE, INC., an Oregon corporation,

Plaintiff,

v.

SKECHERS U.S.A., INC., a Delaware corporation,

Defendant.

Case No.: _____

COMPLAINT FOR PATENT INFRINGEMENT

(35 U.S.C. § 101)

JURY TRIAL REQUESTED

Plaintiff Nike, Inc. (“NIKE”), for its Complaint against Defendant Skechers U.S.A., Inc. (“Skechers”), alleges as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. This is an action for patent infringement arising under the Patent Laws of the United States, 35 U.S.C. § 101 et seq. NIKE owns exclusive rights in the ornamental designs claimed in United States Design Patent Nos. D696,853; D700,423; and D707,032, each titled “Shoe Upper,” and D723,772; D723,781; D723,783; D725,356; and D725,359, each titled “Shoe Sole” (collectively, the “NIKE Patents”).

2. Skechers has used and continues to use the claimed designs of the NIKE Patents, without NIKE’s permission, on shoes that Skechers makes, uses, offers for sale, sells, and/or imports into the United States.

3. NIKE seeks, among other relief, an injunction preventing Skechers from further infringing the NIKE Patents, and damages and/or a disgorgement of Skechers’ profits from its patent infringements.

THE PARTIES

4. NIKE is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Oregon with a principal place of business at One Bowerman Drive, Beaverton, Oregon 97005.

5. On information and belief, Skechers is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Delaware with a principal place of business at 228 Manhattan Beach Boulevard, Manhattan Beach, California 90266.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

6. This action arises under the patent laws of the United States, Title 35, United States Code. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338.

7. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Skechers at least because Skechers transacts and solicits business in the State of Oregon, including with respect to shoes that infringe the NIKE Patents, and because Skechers is committing and has committed acts of patent infringement in the State of Oregon, at least by selling and offering to sell shoes that infringe the NIKE Patents in Oregon.

8. Venue is proper in this judicial district under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391 and 1400 at least because Skechers resides in this district by transacting and soliciting business in this district, including with respect to shoes that infringe the NIKE Patents, and committing acts of patent infringement in this district by selling and offering to sell shoes that infringe the NIKE Patents.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

A. The NIKE Patents

9. For many years, NIKE has designed, developed, made, and sold a wide array of athletic and fashion footwear, apparel, and sports equipment.

10. NIKE has taken steps to protect its innovative designs, including its footwear-related designs. In particular, NIKE owns various United States design patents relating to its footwear designs. Relevant to this dispute, NIKE owns all right, title, and interest in, and has the right to sue and recover for past, present, and future infringement of, each of the NIKE Patents identified in Table 1 from the date each patent duly and legally issued to NIKE. A copy of each NIKE Patent is attached to this Complaint as indicated in Table 1.

D725,359 (the “‘359 Patent”)	Shoe Sole	March 31, 2015	H

11. The NIKE Patents are presumed to be valid.

B. Skechers’ Infringing Activities

12. On information and belief, without NIKE’s authorization, Skechers made, used, offered for sale, sold, and/or imported into the United States shoes having designs that violate the NIKE Patents (hereafter, the “Infringing Shoes”). The Infringing Shoes include at least products identified by the model names: Skechers’ Burst, Women’s Flex Appeal, Men’s Flex Advantage, Girl’s Skech Appeal, and Boy’s Flex Advantage shoes, as well as Skechers’ shoes bearing the same or substantially similar infringing designs, regardless of model name.

13. On information and belief, the overall appearance of the designs of the NIKE Patents and the corresponding designs of Skechers’ Infringing Shoes are substantially the same.

14. On information and belief, an ordinary observer will perceive the overall appearance of the designs of the NIKE Patents and the corresponding designs of Skechers’ Infringing Shoes to be substantially the same. For example, a recent article describes the Skechers’ Burst Infringing Shoe as having “ripped off” NIKE’s “Flyknit” design that is covered by the ‘853, ‘423, and ‘032 Patents, as shown in Illustration 1 below. The complete article is attached to the Complaint as Exhibit I.

16. On information and belief, Skechers intended to copy the designs covered by the NIKE Patents.

17. On information and belief, Skechers sells and offers to sell its shoes, including the Infringing Shoes, directly to end-user customers through its e-commerce websites and its own retail stores, as well as to third-party resellers, such as department and specialty stores, through its wholesale distribution channel. (See, e.g., Exhibit J, Skechers' Form 10-K at 2, 9–10.)

18. Skechers sells and offers to sell Infringing Shoes directly to end-user customers in the United States, including in Oregon. Third-party resellers also sell and offer to sell the Infringing Shoes in the United States, including in Oregon. For example, Exhibit K attached shows Infringing Shoes for sale on www.kohls.com, which, on information and belief, were distributed through Skechers' wholesale distribution channel, as well as a map showing Kohl's locations in the Portland, Oregon area.

19. On information and belief, Skechers has infringed and continues to infringe the NIKE Patents within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. § 271 at least by making, using, selling, offering to sell, and/or importing the Infringing Shoes into the United States without NIKE's authorization.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Infringement Under 35 U.S.C. § 271 of the NIKE Patents)

20. NIKE re-alleges and incorporates by reference the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1–20 of this Complaint.

22. NIKE has been and will continue to be irreparably harmed by Skechers' infringements of the NIKE Patents

WHEREFORE, NIKE respectfully requests that the Court grant the following relief:
